School holiday ideas galore for Griffith families

Families looking for ways to keep the kids entertained these school holidays won't be disappointed as Griffith has something for everyone, with a fantastic line-up of activities, exhibitions, markets and family-friendly events on offer.

Whether you're keen to get creative, try something new, or simply enjoy a relaxing day out, Griffith is the place to be this autumn.

Pioneer Park Museum is open daily and currently features the Sikh Exhibition – Turbans for Australia, a vibrant showcase celebrating the Sikh community's contribution to Australian life. With a colourful display of turbans and cultural insights, it's an inspiring and educational experience for all ages.

At Griffith Regional Art Gallery, visitors can explore The Bald Archy Prize, a quirky exhibition featuring humorous Australian art. On Saturday 12 April, budding young artists can join Isis Rae Ronan for Mastering the Art of Painting, a hands-on workshop designed to inspire and unleash creativity.

Local clubs across the city are also joining in the fun with a packed program of entertainment, raffles, and special offers. It's the perfect time to gather the family, enjoy a night out and be in the running to win some great prizes.

Enjoy a day at the market and support local at Griffith Central Market Day on Saturday, 12 April or head over to the weekly Sunday Rotary Markets to pick up some fresh produce and artisan goods.

With the weather cooling down, it's the ideal time to get out and about. The Griffith Tourism Hub offers a variety of walking guides, or you can join Park Run for a free, fun and friendly fitness event suitable for the whole family.

The Griffith City Library has something for everyone these holidays with a program full of crafts, games and movie sessions, the perfect way to keep curious minds engaged and entertained.

And don't forget to check out Griffith Easter Party, with a host of events running across the break, including Bacchus on the Lake, Pioneer Park Action Day, Easter Fun in Memorial Park, Piccolo Family Farm's Producers Market, and a variety of exciting winery events.

There truly is something for everyone in Griffith these school holidays, from art and culture to outdoor adventures and family-friendly fun.
