Triple J's One Night Stand is coming to Griffith!

Griffith is set to host the biggest music event in its history, with the city announced as the host of triple j's One Night Stand. The iconic all-ages music festival is set to take over Griffith Showground on Saturday 5 September 2026.

After working closely with the triple j team, Council is excited to share the news with the community and the rest of Australia

Regional NSW has waited more than a decade for the return of One Night Stand, with the last event held in Dubbo in 2013. Now taking its place among the select regional towns to host the iconic festival, Griffith is preparing to welcome an impressive line-up featuring internationally acclaimed producer Ninajirachi, Hottest 100 winners DMA'S, renowned performer Genesis Owusu, alt-pop standout MAY-A, award-winning indie rockers Beddy Rays, plus a local triple j Unearthed competition winner yet to be announced.

Hosting one of Australia's most iconic live music events is a major milestone for Griffith and provides an incredible opportunity to showcase the region to thousands of visitors from across the country.

Council is looking forward to welcoming music lovers to Griffith and encouraging them to extend their stay by exploring the region's award-winning food and wine, unique attractions and welcoming community.

The community is also encouraged to get involved by giving visitors a warm Griffith welcome and supporting local businesses throughout the weekend. The event is expected to deliver significant economic benefits while putting Griffith in the national spotlight.

Tickets go on sale at 9am AEST today and are priced at $15 plus booking fee for over 16s and $10 plus booking fee for under 16s. Locals are encouraged to secure their tickets quickly, with previous One Night Stand events selling out within 24 hours.

Mayor Doug Curran said, "This is a real moment of pride for our community. We're excited to welcome visitors from across Australia, showcase everything our region has to offer and give our community the chance to experience one of the country's most iconic music
